eDiscovery

Easily archive communications to enhance eDiscovery and litigation preparedness.

MERGE1 REDUCES EDISCOVERY RISK BY HELPING ARCHIVE ALL OF YOUR COMMUNICATIONS

THE CHALLENGE:

Your Workforce Uses Several Mediums To Communicate

Today, the majority of business communications take place across various digital mediums, including instant message, text message, chat, social media, enterprise social, and financial messaging networks. In fact, studies shows that 70% of workforce communications now take place over non-email sources.

THE PROBLEM:

You Want To Be Able To Search and Find Any Workforce Communication

To properly support eDiscovery efforts, firms must archive not only emails, but also messages that are sent across these various digital mediums. Otherwise, communications that might be relevant to lawsuits or internal HR investigations, for example, can not be discovered.

THE SOLUTION:

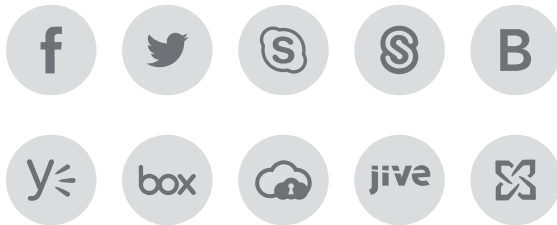

Merge1 Helps Archive and Search Various Communications for eDiscovery

Since 2005, Merge1 by Globanet has helped firms in various industries quickly and easily enhance their eDiscovery capabilities. Merge1 extends your existing email archive to capture all of the messages being sent by your workforce across any medium. By expanding search results to include all communications, Merge1 enhances eDiscovery, helps with litigation preparedness and, consequently, reduces litigation risk.

Benefits of Merge1

- Avoid fines, penalties and other enforcement actions by regulatory bodies
- Reduce compliance related costs and recurring fees
- Capture all communications
- Maintain control over your data

Archive popular message content types including social media, IM, financial platforms, and cloud-based content.

Merge1 archives dozens of content types and can be customized to archive any content.

Archiving all your content with Merge1 helps you comply with industry regulations and enhances your eDiscovery results.
